

Santa on the Moon

Loafing on the sofa with my wife and family
Sipping Ole Kentucky, early Xmas Eve
My son burst in & cried, "It's a social media typhoon.
The Russians & Chinese put Santa on the Moon."

Mama always said, "It's like a silver spoon."
Santa says he's happy. "It's like Saskatoon.
Practice all day long, then a few cartoons.
I get bourbon whiskey, them reindeer, macaroons."

Santa on the moon, who would've thunk it?
CNN got a theory, Fox trying to debunk it
If you got a basketball, good time to dunk it.
I said, 'Baby, where's the wine?' She said, "You drunk it.
Anyhow, Santa's on the moon.
You heard that right, Santa's on the moon."

The Chinese are designing a lunar factory
The Indians are contributing toy technology
The World Bank is investing, 'The timing is opportune.'
The G8 is convening a meeting in Rangoon.

Santa on the moon, who would've thunk it?
Things are tense, LA to Nantucket
If you got a banjo, good time to pluck it.
I said, 'Baby, where's the wine?' She said, "You drunk it,
And anyhow, Santa's on the moon.
You heard that right, Santa's on the moon."

The media's going nuts, it ain't no honeymoon

Rifling the trash like ravenous racoons
The Senate is concerned. "Will presents carry chips?
They're going to have our data at their fingertips."

Santa on the moon, who would've thunk it?
If you got a banjo, good time to pluck it.
If you got a basketball, good time to dunk it.
I said, 'Baby, where's the wine?' She said, "You drunk it.
Anyhow, Santa's on the moon.
You heard that right, this ain't no trial balloon.
He is really on the moon."
